Kings Park Fashion

It was touch and go as to whether Kings Park Fashion in Brunswick would still go ahead. The ladies from Perth were so committed to coming out to the regions that they chose to act quickly to avoid the lock down. Having been in Boddington before the announcement they packed up and made their way down prior to the border closure.

Lucky for us they made this commitment as the Kings Park Fashion day was lots of fun. Morning tea was provided by the beautiful bowling club ladies, the raffles provided by the Brunswick Junction CRC and lastly a mix of lovely local ladies made up the models for the 10.30 fashion show.

A wide range of outfits were modelled which gave everyone a good view of what was on offer. The catwalk was very interactive with lots of smiles, a few whistles and a bit of touching (feeling of fabric).

Thank you to all who came for a morning out whilst enjoying some quality clothes shopping in our little country town. Big thank you to Kings Park Fashion and all the volunteers who made it all happen.

Models: Mary Edwards, Roberta Treasure, Jo Dalton and Tina Wallis

MAGGIE'S MUSINGS

MARGRET CARBONE

Welcome to winter! It's time to light the fire and make some soup! And in the beautiful Brunswick area, winter means sausage season! Many locals have already begun the annual making of Italian-style pork sausages, a tradition which was brought to us many years ago by Italian immigrants, and which today includes many non-Italian sausage-makers as well! Now is the time to put aside a special dried sausage in cryovac, ready for the Brunswick Show's Italian Sausage Competition! There will be two sections, hot and mild. The competition has grown in popularity since its inception some five or six years ago, with entries coming from far and wide. The Italian Sausage Competition will be judged during show week, at a special event to be held at the local football clubrooms. The "Sausages & Beer" evening will include the judging of the Brunswick Show's Home Brew section, which draws a very high standard of entries despite being restricted to amateur brewers. Guest judges have included south-west radio personality Angie, from Triple M radio in Bunbury, and Peter Gianfrancesco from Pete's Chop Shop in Australind, both of whom are hoped to be available to join the judging panels again this year. After the Covid-19 restrictions of 2020 caused the cancellation of last year's Show, the hardworking volunteers are all set to make the 2021 show better than ever. The 89th Brunswick Show will be held on Saturday 23 October, with the theme "Celebrating Rural Transport". With cancellation of last year's show resulting in a "Gymkhana" last year, There is much interest in again holding the horse events on a different day, possibly on the Sunday of the show weekend. The Gymkhana was very successful and included sheep and goat competitions. Watch this space as The Moospaper will bring you news as it comes to hand! The Moospaper would like to remind everyone of the farewell party for Jo Dalton and family, to be held on Saturday 10 July in Brunswick Town Hall. Dinner bookings have now closed, however, all are welcome to join Jo and the community from 8.30pm for the free DJ and party! BYO drinks! There is no local football that weekend due to the South-West Football League's Country Championships, but Harvey-Brunswick-Leschenault Lions will meet Harvey Bulls at Harvey Oval on the following Saturday, 17 July. This "Harvey Fresh Cup" match will be played after being rescheduled from Round 3, due to the detection of Covid-19 cases in Perth at the time, resulting in a lockdown. It's back to Brunswick Oval for the Lions on Sunday 25 July as they host the Collie Eagles. The Moospaper would like to wish all school staff and students a restful and enjoyable school holidays!

Check out Brunswick Community Resource Centre for school holiday activities and events!
Don't you just LOVE Brunswick?!

LAND ROVER FOR BRUNSWICK LIONS CLUB

Judy Talbot

On Friday, June 4th Brunswick Lions Club Members and several Lions Ladies gathered to show Federal Member for Forrest Nola Marino their latest acquisition - a Land Rover. We have been fortunate to receive this vehicle from the Defence Department and it was delivered to Brunswick from Leeuwin Barracks in Perth by South West Towing and we are most appreciative of their generosity. Hopefully, this vehicle can be used on Anzac Day and when the Plaque for the Vietnam Veterans is dedicated. All then enjoyed morning tea at Mark and Angela Talbot's home.

We received our first Foodbank delivery to Brunswick!

Brunswick Junction CRC has partnered with Food Bank to have essential items delivered to community members who may need a little helping hand.

On Tuesday 15th of June Brunswick received their first Foodbank order. The Brunswick CRC was amazed at how great the value for money is with these orders.

The Fruit and Veggie Box was only $5 for the ENTIRE box, as shown in the photo, as well as the meat packs, $15 for a decent sized meat pack, impressive.

For those wishing to access this service please see the CRC to sign up as a Food Bank client. The CRC has advised that all assessments are individually based and that there is no set criteria in place for this service.

The CRC will take individual orders and payment, submit a bulk order to Food Bank who will then deliver to the CRC on the allocated monthly date.

Orders for July need to be submitted by Tuesday 20th July with the delivery being Tuesday 27th July.

To find out more call the CRC on 9726 1452 or come in a see the friendly staff.

CRC WELCOMES NEW STAFF MEMBER

The Community Resource Centre would like to welcome a new member to their team, Natalie Norris who started in June.

Here's what Natalie had to say:

"Hi, I'm Nat, I am very excited to be a part of the busy team at the Resource Centre. It's been great meeting all the friendly locals and getting to know my way around the Centre. I am currently studying a Certificate III in Community Services and am very much looking forward to putting my skills to work. It's a change from being a stay at home mum, which I've done for the last 7 years, but I'm excited for the role and also getting to know the community."

Brunswick Men's Shed: A BLOOMIN' GOOD PROJECT

Chris from the Men's Shed attended a funding meeting at the CRC where he heard that the project to build planter boxes to beautify the main street had stalled. It seemed like a project for the Men's Shed. He raised it at the next Thursday Morning Forum where it was accepted. However, who would build the first prototype? All eyes turned to Chris. He is a retired teacher and not the handiest person around. Just thinking about it gave him a hernia requiring surgery and six weeks light duties. He is now back on deck and the project has begun.

The BMS had been given a load of the jarrah planks from the old stables. It was a bit warped and bloody hard but perfect for the boxes. Decked out in ear muffs, goggles, visor and gloves Chris can be seen gingerly sliding planks through the thicknesser and cutting forty five degree corners concerned that the blades might disintegrate, which they haven't.

He is being ably assisted by young William plus receiving useful advice from more practical members.

When completed the boxes will be assessed by the Department of Main Roads as they are supposed to collapse if hit by a vehicle. It was suggested that we test one but so far no one has volunteered their vehicle. One observer reckoned you could derail a train with the current box.

Number one is almost finished and another version is in the "design" phase which will require a fair bit of coffee and discussion and there is no shortage of that at the BMS.

Remembrance for Late Lion Tony Frisina

The rain held off on Saturday 29th May for the Lions memorial of the late Lion Tony Frisina. Lion president Ron Arkwright welcomed everyone and passed on the role of remembrance to Lion Tony's good friend Lion Murray Piggott. Lion John Fry also shared a tale of youthful adventure he had with Lion Tony which saw the sun shine through the clouds and everyone blink the tears away with a good laugh.

The beautiful Lions lady Carole Frisina unveiled the plaque which proudly represents Lion Tony on the Lion's memorial seat along with fellow past Lions. Lion Tony's family, friends and fellow Lions adjourned the official proceedings into the Brunswick Tavern for food, beverage and more storytelling. It was a wonderful morning spent with Lion Tony's family, celebrating a much-missed individual, community member and dear friend.

REGIONAL YOUTH DRIVER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Raine Torrisi from the Regional Youth Driver Education (RYDE) Program visited the staff at the Community Resource Centre on Monday the 14th of June. Ms Raine signed up two of the ladies, Natalie Norris and Nicola Van Dijk as Support Workers for the program.

RYDE, as it is known, connects learner drivers to volunteer mentors and a program vehicle to help them complete their 50 hours of experienced driving.

The RYDE program is a response developed by the town of Bassendean to the Western Australian Government's change from 25-50 supervised driving hours in November 2012.

If you're aged 16-25, currently a learner driver and need help getting experience behind the wheel, then RYDE might be for you.

Each driving session is 90 minutes and costs just $15.

If you meet the basic criteria to supervise a learner driver and would like to volunteer your time to being a driving mentor you can also contact RYDE via their website at www.ryde.org.au/volunteering

Learner drivers interested in using the program or finding out more about it can contact Brunswick CRC on (08) 9726 1452 or visit the RYDE website ryde.org.au

Morning Tea for Jo

Members of the community came together on Wednesday 16th June to enjoy a morning tea with Jo. Lots of stories were shared, with Ron Exelby, Chairman of the CRC. Highlighting to guests that on the Monday of that week the CRC committee presented Jo with lifetime membership of the organisation. Thankyou to everyone who came along, it was a lovely opportunity to thank Jo for all of her handwork over the years.

"Thank you everyone who has come to wish me well over the last few weeks. My family, especially my husband wonders if I will weigh the plane down if my head gets any bigger from all the praise. I will miss everyone, Tina and I came up with an idea for me to send a monthly snippet to the Moospaper of my adventures from across the Tasman. That way you can all see what I'm up too. It is in my nature to be there is anyone needs so it the monthly snippet is not quite enough and you would like to contact me directly feel free to do so".

Stories from another corner of the world

We have a special overseas contributor who wants to share stories from their life. We will be publishing these stories throughout the year.

Lining the route (part 1)

After Queen Elizabeth's Coronation in 1953 she and Prince Phillip went on a tour of important cities around the country, one of which was Cardiff in South Wales. The usual procedure was for the Royal couple to be driven around town in a motorcade with the route lined by servicemen from all branches.

At the time I was in the Royal Air Force undergoing trade training at RAF St. Asaph not far from Cardiff so I, like just about everyone else on the Station, was picked for this duty. We practiced for a week, marching up and down, rehearsing arms drill and a couple of unusual manoeuvres one involving changing three ranks to two and then spreading out into two columns. Each man had to count paces as he passed a marker and then halt at different times so we finished up spaced six feet apart on each side of the road. The other drill involved changing a rifle from one shoulder to the other whilst on the march as we were told we would have to march about two miles without a break at one stage during the day.

As it turned out neither drill was necessary as when we were in position an officious little Warrant Officer paced down the middle of the road and made us all shuffle a few inches left or right to suit where he thought was correct. Afterwards the officer in charge either didn't know or forgot about the "changing arms on the march" order and we went the whole way with the rifle on one shoulder.

Of course, we were all in our "best blues" uniform and were issued with a white webbing belt and a rifle with a white sling so, I guess we looked the part even if many of us had only been in the service a few months and we did manage a fairly presentable "present arms" as the Royal entourage drove past.

While the dignitaries dined at the town hall we had lunch at a local drill hall and then went out and did it all again at a different location as they left. They must have been impressed with the sheer numbers of service personnel!

Lining the route (Part 2)

Some four years later (than part 1) I was working in Toronto, Canada when Princess Margaret arrived on a Royal Tour. For the benefit of younger readers Princess Margaret was the Queen's younger sister. It happened that the route of the motorcade went past the place where I was working and we were allowed to go outside to watch. The street was lined on both sides by service personnel and police and there were spectators four or five deep on the pavements.

Just as the Royal cars came into view a huge Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman about seven feet tall and dressed in the full dress uniform of scarlet jacket, blue trousers, lemon squeezer hat, knee high brown leather riding boots, belt and holster complete with huge pistol on a white lanyard, broke ranks from about ten yards up on the other side of the street and marched straight over to stand in front of me. "Hello, Peter" he said "what are you up to these days?".

I was acutely aware of my workmates and a fair number of strangers all staring at me obviously thinking I must be some sort of low life well known to the authorities and fervently wished the pavement would open up and swallow me. The pavement refused to cooperate and an agonizing conversation continued until the parade was only a few yards away when my tormentor casually strolled back to his place.

It was some time later that I realized that I had been talking to the owner of the house where my friend and I boarded when I first arrived in Toronto. I knew he was a policeman but did not realize he was a Mountie.
